PARKING CHAOS AT BEAUTY SPOT TO BE TACKLED

Report by Henry James

COUNCILLORS are to consider plans to tackle parking chaos at the Fairy Glen beauty spot in West Lancs.

The sheer number of vehicles which descend of the site, which borders Appley Bridge and Parbold, has resulted in a "serious safety problem" on one of the borough's busiest roads.

There has been a huge increase in visitors to the beauty spot in recent months and now Lancashire County Council is proposing to introduce a 'red route' clearway, to prevent vehicles from stopping, waiting, or parking, along the A5209 - along which Fairy Glen sits from junction 27 of the M6 to the start of the 30mph zone to Parbold.

A report to the council's cabinet meeting due to be held on Thursday, January 20 outlines that the number of people visiting Fairy Glen, a small woodland area, has ballooned since the first Covid-19 lockdown in 2020, which prompted many people to explore new places for exercise and recreation.

Fairy Glen can be accessed from the A5209 as well as a number of smaller local roads, but has no dedicated car park, resulting in a problem with large numbers of people parking along grass verges on the A5209. This has raised serious safety concerns for the visitors themselves and other traffic on what is a very busy route.

The report to the council's cabinet outlines the results of recent public consultation on the proposals to introduce a 'red route' clearway, which would allow the county council to enforce parking and waiting across the whole width of the highway, including the pavements and grass verges.

County Councillor Charlie Edwards, cabinet member for highways and transport, said: "Since 2020, Fairy Glen has begun attracting a huge number of visitors, many from beyond the immediate local area, resulting in a serious safety problem due to people parking along what is a very busy road. A computerised image of what the new Aldi would look like at Westgate

plans for town centre
site... and agree to keep Concourse store open

by Henry James

ALDI has submitted a revised application in their bid to build a new store at land at Westgate and High Street in Skelmersdale and they have now given assurances that they will keep their Concourse unit open, which has a lease until 2025.

At the end of 2019 the supermarket chain submitted plans to relocate to a new store within the town at the old Co-op offices at Westgate, but the application has encountered multiple objections.

The new development would create 40 to 50 full and part-time jobs.

An objection was raised by the applicant's existing landlord, who were "extremely concerned" about the adverse impact caused by the loss of Aldi.

Lidl, who are a part of the new Skelmersdale town centre scheme being delivered by St Modwen, have also objected. They did threaten to pull out if Aldi did secure consent for a larger store to compete with Lidl.

Aldi want to develop a site at Westgate which was occupied by a 1960's office building until it was demolished in 2021 after an arson attack. The building had been vacant since 2016 when the Co-operative Group moved out.

As part of the revised application there is a covering letter from Avison Young, who are representing the German retailer.

Officer thanked for helping couple in their 'hour of need'

PC who helped woman who was struggling for breath and gave her a lift to her son's flat says there's more to job than arresting people

By Henry James

A POLICE officer who helped an elderly woman from West Lancashire with a heart condition has been praised for being there in her 'hour of need' while she was on a visit to Nottingham.

PC Sam Warren went to her aid when he spotted the woman and her husband who were on a visit to struggling to climb a hill in Park Row, in the city centre.

The kind-hearted officer got out his police car and asked if they were OK. The husband said his wife had become unwell and was at the point of collapse.

PC Warren offered to take them to hospital but instead they asked to be given a lift to their son's address so that she could rest. The officer helped the lady into his car and drove them to their son's flat, where he helped her into the property.

Impressed by his act of kindness, the husband wrote to Nottingham Police Station, where PC Warren is based, to thank him for his compassion and help. The couple also sent him a Christmas card.

In the letter, the husband said: "I don't know what may have become of us" had PC Warren not stopped his car and come to their aid.

It added: "My wife is now recovered and we are eternally grateful to him."

Recalling the incident a week before Christmas, PC Warren said: "I was driving at the back of the police station and could see the lady was struggling for breath and was leant against a signpost.

PC Sam Warren

"I wound down my window and asked if they were OK. The husband said his wife had a heart condition and was unable to continue up the hill.

"I asked if they wanted a lift or if I could take her to the hospital. She didn't want to go so I gave them a lift to their son's flat, which is where they were staying as they weren't from Nottingham.

"They said the flat was at the top of a steep hill, so I gave them a lift. I helped her into the car and made sure they got inside the flat OK."

Although it was a small act of kindness, PC Warren said it demonstrated an important part of policing that often goes unnoticed by the public.

He said: "People think police just go around arresting people, but there's a lot more to the job than that.

"We're not just there to investigate crimes, we're there to help people.

"I would have done it for anyone because it was the right thing to do."

Councillor Gareth Dowling at the alley between Church Street and Two Saints Retail Park.

CCTV demand from traders for 'eyesore' alleyway

Businesses call for secluded passage to be made more secure to prevent fly-tipping and anti social behaviour

Report by Henry James

CALLS are being made for a security gate and CCTV cameras to be installed at an 'eyesore' town centre alleyway which has attracted fly-tipping and anti social behaviour.

Businesses close to the alley between Church Street and Hutton Way near the Two Saints Retail Park say rubbish is being left there which is attracting rats to the area.

They say the secluded alley attracts anti-social behaviour and the problem has got worse since a metal access gate was dismantled.

The alley was cleaned up by council workers following a site visit by Knowsley Ward Councillor Gareth Dowling who is now asking the CCTV cameras to be installed there.

He said: "The inappropriate storing of trade waste coupled with littering and possible fly-tipping has caused real concern for local businesses, particularly with the sighting of rats.

"I raised this with council officers and I am pleased that West Lancashire Borough Council's Clean and Green Team promptly visited the site and assured me that waste bins will be relocated there.

"The council is also seeking to establishing ownership and responsibility for the alleyway through Land Registry searches."

He added that the council has notified the police of the traders' concerns and requested increased foot patrols and attention to nearby CCTV cameras.

Cllr Dowling said the council had also asked for assessment for CCTV cameras to be positioned at the junction of this alley and that which connects Two Saints and Church Street.

He said steps are also underway to re-install the gate to restrict public access to the alley.

"I also noticed a number of raised flags which may be a trip hazard, so these have also been reported through to the council for repair or to report directly to whoever is responsible for their upkeep.

"I look forward to continuing to work with council officers, the police and local business owners to improve and enhance this piece of land in our town centre which has been described as an eyesore.

"Alongside recent improvements, developments and businesses opening on Church Street, we want to ensure this end of town is thriving equal to Moor Street, Aughton Street and Burscough Street."

Aldi bosses agree to keep Concourse store open after revising new site plans

It states: "A further reason why the application materials have merited revision is that whilst Aldi's objective remains to bring their latest discount foodstore format to Skelmersdale, so that they can better meet the needs of Skelmersdale residents from a building capable of providing their full food offer, they have reconsidered their position on their existing Skelmersdale town centre store.

"They are now proposing to retain their Concourse Centre store (where the current lease runs until the end of 2025) so that there would be no consequential reduction in consumer choice and competition within the town centre should a new Aldi store open at Westgate."

Aldi has said though they cannot adequately serve Skelmersdale from their existing store within the Concourse Centre in Skelmersdale town centre.

The planning and retail statement submitted with the new application explains:

"This is both due to the store's limited size (which has a sales area one third less than Aldi's current foodstore format) and inherent operational constraints associated with the Concourse Centre itself.

"These include there being no dedicated surface level car parking within easy reach of customers using trolleys – critical for those undertaking a 'bulk' food shopping trip – and reduced operational hours, dictated by the trading hours of the shopping centre."

County chiefs to tackle parking chaos at Fairy Glen

"Our proposals to prevent parking and waiting are in response to the concerns which have been raised by local residents, Lancashire Constabulary, and West Lancashire Borough Council, which is responsible for Fairy Glen.

"Our highways officers have also carried out their own observations of the situation and agree that something needs to be done.

"We're always working to make Lancashire's roads safer, and I'm grateful to everyone who has contacted us about this problem, and responded to the consultation. I will be asking our cabinet to carefully consider this report which outlines the issues with parking and the responses we have received."

The A5209 at Fairy Glen

A 40mph speed limit was introduced on this section of the A5209 in November 2021 – the road was previously derestricted and subject to the national speed limit of 60mph.

Hillsborough Law is long overdue, says W Lancs MP

Report by Henry James

WEST Lancashire MP Rosie Cooper has reiterated her full support to the campaign for a 'Hillsborough Law' to protect and support families of those bereaved in disasters.

Ms Cooper, who was a Liverpool city councillor for 27 years, has spoken a number of times in the House of Commons about the ongoing struggle for Justice for the 97 victims of the disaster on April 15 1989, and for their families, who have shown such solidarity and dignity in their fight for the truth.

Calls for a 'Hillsborough Law' emerged in the wake of a review by the Right Reverend James Jones, former Bishop of Liverpool, which detailed 25 recommendations designed to reform the systems of unaccountable power, which were abused by organisations connected to the disaster.

The law would bring in a number of measures including: a public advocate to represent the families of those bereaved in disaster events; a 'duty of candour' on public servants such as police officers to tell the truth and co-operate fully with inquiries; increased access to legal aid so that families can have legal representation of their own; and a requirement that any criminal trials following a major inquest take place in a court with relevant expertise and status, rather than a crown court.

Ms Cooper said: "As we draw close to the 33rd anniversary of this unspeakable tragedy, I again pay tribute to the work of all the campaigners for Justice for the 97, and especially the Hillsborough Family Support Group.

"ITV's recent drama Anne has served as a powerful reminder to the whole nation of the impact of Hillsborough on the city of the Liverpool, and the countless lives that were forever changed by that day.

"I have given this campaign my full and unreserved support - it is long overdue that families affected by disasters like Hillsborough have enhanced protection in law, and receive the support that they deserve.

"More recent incidents such as the fire at Grenfell Tower remind us that we must always strive for truth and justice for those who lose their lives in these senseless tragedies.

"The truth will come out but it shouldn't take so many years. The Government needs to make it easier, not just for justice to be done - but to be seen to be done."

Council scraps plan to sell 'high quality' land to its own housing firm

Report by Henry James

PLANS to sell a patch of 'high quality public open space' land in Ormskirk for housebuilding have been scrapped by the borough council in a move that has been welcomed by Our West Lancashire.

The council Independents have warmly welcomed the "U-turn" but said it showed how the council has "lost its way".

The local authority had planned to sell the land on Farrington Drive to its own housing firm Tawd Valley Developments (TVD).

But OWL leaders objected and claimed there is a "shortage of public open space" land in Ormskirk.

The patch of land was unknown to OWL at the time of their objections, but at a Executive Overview and Scrutiny Committee meeting on January 13 councillors voted to make a council report public. This identified the public open space in Ormskirk as Farrington Drive.

OWL chairman, Cllr Adrian Owens said: "I'm delighted the council have abandoned the plans as we had previously called for. The council's very own assessments show that this piece of open space is of high quality and that Ormskirk has a shortage of public open space! Another OWL councillor secured comments from the council tree officer that trees on the site were worthy of preservation.

"The fact that this open space was ever threatened shows how far the council has lost its way at the current time. It needs to regain a strategic focus with internal consistency rather than the contradictory 'push me, pull you' approach of this sorry saga."

A spokesperson for West Lancashire Borough Council responded: "As stated in our previous response to this matter, all sites that Tawd Valley Developments (TVD) are exploring are shared at an early stage with a working group which consists of elected members from each political party including Our West Lancashire.

"Tawd Valley Developments follow a robust appraisal process when considering any sites for development. The Board of TVD are required to approve all developments in line with the objectives set out by the Council. All decisions made by the Board on specific opportunities are based on facts and evidence and no other influencing factors."

Borough's logo is a no-no for designer

Council comes low down in corporate image chart and 'should go in landfill' says graphics expert

Report by Henry James

WEST Lancashire Borough Council has not performed well in a nationwide list of council corporate imagery, put together by a graphic designer.

The list has proved to be a viral hit and creator Robin Wilde does not hold back with some of his comments.

West Lancashire Borough Council's emblem came in at 316th with Mr Wilde commenting simply: "Get in the landfill with the rest."

Bottom of the list was Allerdale Borough Council in Cumbria (403) while top was Bedford Borough Council.

Robin said: "Each has been ranked using some broad criteria accounting for the adherence to design principles, the originality of the concept, and the technical execution, with nebulous bonus points added or subtracted on a whim, because unlike your local council, this is not a democracy."

A spokesperson for West Lancashire Borough Council said: "We are very proud of our Council crest which appears on our publications, signs, and vehicles and features references to the Borough's heritage. The motto is 'Salus Populi Suprema Lex' which translates as 'the health of the people is the highest law', demonstrating that we are here to serve the people of West Lancashire and they are our top priority."

Lancashire County Council did appear in the top half of the table, but was still placed at 182 out of the 403 local authorities assessed.

About the county council emblem Robin said: "I'm not sure what's going on with the wordmark here."

"It looks like it was made of gelatine and then sucked on for half an hour. It's not an awful look, but jars badly with the very angular rose and supporting text."

A Lancashire County Council spokesperson said the authority was "really proud of its logo" as "it says exactly who we are and is instantly recognisable because of our county red rose – just what a good logo should be."

The spokesperson added: "This ranking is a bit of fun and has given us something to smile about."

"Of course we disagree with our ranking – by proudly showing off the historic red rose of Lancashire, we're pretty sure our logo is the best in the country."

Parbold Village Hall open again and set to host Sunday markets

PARBOLD Village Hall is now fully open thanks to the hard work of volunteers and the completion of a new heating and ventilation system.

The centre's regular groups are now up and running and the newly named Parbold Sunday Market begins on Sunday, January 30.

A spokesperson for Parbold Village Hall said: "Little did we know in January 2020 when we were replacing our old heating system that our hall would remain closed for more than 12 months."

"This was a huge setback but we had to keep everyone as safe as possible."

"During this time our volunteers received The Queen's award for Voluntary Parbold Village Hall.

Services."

He added that having a modern heating and ventilation system was particularly important given the Covid situation and that work was made possible by grants from Parbold Parish Council.

Mountain Bike Trails open at Tawd Valley as work of volunteers on project praised

Report by Henry James

WORK by the community has been heralded in helping to create the newly opened mountain bike trails in Tawd Valley Park, Skelmersdale.

Installation of the track has been overseen by the council's Rangers Team but chiefs say the "incredible effort" from the Friends of Tawd Valley group and other volunteers who lent a hand during 'dig days' was a critical part of the success of this project.

A council spokesperson said: "The input of the community was crucial to the success of this facility going forward."

The project was funded by cash from the Community Infrastructure Levy secured by West Lancashire Borough Council together with a community grant from Sport England.

The mountain bike trail was officially opened by the Mayor of West Lancashire, Councillor Gordon Johnson on Saturday, January 15.

Councillor Yvonne Gagen, cabinet member for leisure, said: "I'm delighted people will be able to visit the beautiful Tawd Valley Park, with its greenery and fresh air while keeping fit and having fun."

"It's great to see local businesses and community groups joining together with us to deliver a valuable outdoor facility to the people of the borough."

Hannah Murphy from the council's Ranger Service said: "This facility will be an incredible addition to the area, allowing free and unrestricted access for people of all ages to enjoy mountain biking."

Some of the dignitaries at the opening of the trails.

Future plans for the facility include free mountain bike hire for the trail and courses for local schools, and coaching courses through West Lancashire College, regular volunteer 'dig days' to assist with the maintenance of the track, together with races and 'active lifestyle' promotional events.

At the opening free bike MOTs were available onsite, courtesy of 'The Bike Works', as well as pop up displays from Friends of Tawd Valley, WLBC and several other organisations.

Residents warned to watch out for NHS Covid passport scam

Report by Henry James

RESIDENTS are being warned by Lancashire County Council Trading Standards Service to be on the lookout for a fake NHS Covid passport scam that's been duping people into handing over their financial details.

Fraudsters are attempting to con the public by convincing them to hand over money, financial details and personal information.

The sophisticated scam involves people receiving a text or email purportedly from the NHS asking them for their payment details so they can process their Covid pass.

Residents have also reported being contacted by phone by someone falsely claiming to be from the NHS.

The NHS Covid Pass is free and is available via the NHS App, the NHS website or by calling 119. The NHS will never ask for payment or any financial details or issue fines or penalties about your NHS Covid Pass.

County Councillor Peter Buckley, cabinet member for community and cultural services, said: "Criminals will always look for opportunities to exploit and will think nothing of preying on people's fears and concerns to get their hands on their personal details."

"Some of the scams we are coming across, particularly those relating to Covid-19, are getting more sophisticated so it's important to stay two steps ahead. Any communication that attempts to pressure you into handing over your personal details should trigger alarm bells and you should never do that without further investigation."

"Once these crooks have your details, they can commit identity theft, take money from your account, or pass them on to organised crime networks, so it's vital you don't reply and report them as soon as possible.

"If you receive an email or text similar to this then do not click on any links and please report it to the Trading Standards Service."

Another coronavirus con to look out for is a phishing scam that asks the recipient to click on a link to order an Omicron PCR test.

The scam email urges the recipient to 'apply now to avoid restrictions' and is headed up with the NHS logo.

The county council is warning residents if they receive an email like this, they should not click any of the links contained within it.

They said people should be suspicious of emails received that offer such tests and forward them to report@phishing.gov.uk

Cllr Buckley added: "If you have symptoms of Covid-19 then you need to book a PCR test online or by calling 119."

"Rapid lateral flow tests for people who are symptomatic can be ordered online or picked up from your nearest collection point, which can be located using the NHS Site Finder."

Information on how to get a Covid-19 test can be found at www.nhs.uk/conditions/coronavirus-covid-19/testing/get-tested-for-coronavirus/ or by calling 119.

I got fantastic care from staff at the walk-in centre

The other day I needed to attend the Ormskirk Walk-in Centre.

As I drove in I noticed that Urgent Care was shown as closed.

Not associating the two (Urgent Care and Walk In Centre) I carried on. Urgent Care, as it's apparently called, was open.

I had to wait three hours to get sorted but the care itself was fantastic.

I had a very painful foot and after an initial examination was sent for an X-ray "just in case."

The wonderful nurse decided what I had wrong with me but as I'm on a lot of other medication I called in the doctor just to make certain the drugs she felt appropriate were not going to clash with what I already took.

So, seen, diagnosed, and prescription in hand I left.

The staff were great.

The nurse was interested and very helpful, describing in simple language why she came to her conclusion and showing me my X-rays on the screen to help explain what was going on.

Brilliant! And much easier than getting to see my GP in the current climate.

The only small drawback was being asked by another nurse to put my mask on properly when she, herself, wore one that didn't cover her nose!

So well done the Urgent Care/Walk In Centre and in particular Vicky.

Thank you.

Creating channel could solve flooding problem on road

The only road from north of Skelmersdale 'town centre' regularly floods after heavy rain, to the point where it has to be closed for two or three days.

After an internet search I can find only 1 newspaper photograph.

This gives the impression that the flooding is due to the River Tawd overflowing.

I'm guessing that no one who is in a position to cure the problem has ever been to the location to see for themselves and maybe relies on that photo for all their information on the problem.

If they did go and investigate while its flooded, they would see that the flooded road is about five metres higher and about the same distance away from a stream which meets the river about 400 metres away.

It is separated by a grassy mound which blocks water from running from road to stream.

It appears to me that it would be relatively simple to divert rainwater off the road and into the stream by creating a simple channel.

Helping Sightsavers can transform lives

As CEO of international development organisation Sightsavers, I see many examples of 'everyday hero' local communities supporting societal challenges.

Players of People's Postcode Lottery are one group in the North West whose goodwill astounds me.

Since 2018 players across Britain have raised over £6.5 million for Sightsavers. This money has helped achieve nearly 9,000 cataract operations, 150,000+ eye examinations and 1 million+ eye-sight tests.

A heartfelt thank you to players for helping transform lives through our eye health, inclusive education and neglected tropical disease projects. Lives like Enock's, a young boy with cerebral malaria, a neurological complication of malaria, who's now happily learning and developing alongside his peers thanks to an inclusive early childhood development project in Malawi.

Enock's father, Chikumbutso, told us that before the project, his son kept himself to himself and was an unhappy child, but he now chats with friends and seems content. Chikumbutso sees a good future for Enock and is more confident about his transition to primary school.

To help transform the lives of people like Enock visit www.sightsavers.org for more information.

Dr Caroline Harper,
Sightsavers

You can't just blame Covid for staff shortages in our health services

Your readers will be aware of the well-documented pressures currently being experienced in health services both locally and nationally.

Our members, providing frontline nursing care to patients under extremely challenging circumstances, are exhausted.

They are aiming, as always, to provide the highest standards of safe and effective care at a time of high demand and staffing shortages.

It would be easy to blame the current staffing pressures on the Covid-19 pandemic – a combination of more patients needing Covid treatment and rising staff sickness levels due to illness and isolation.

This is certainly where the government would like to pin the blame.

The reality is that the current problems have been a long time in the making.

For more than a decade the Royal College of Nursing has been warning that the NHS and wider health and care system is so short of nursing staff that patients do not always receive the safe and high standard of care they expect.

Factors such as a loss of nurses from EU countries, changes to nursing student finance in 2016, a failure to award staff a fair pay rise and the continued lack of a coherent workforce plan that addresses how to retain experienced nurses as well as recruit new ones have all contributed to the extraordinary circumstances our members are now working under.

While we all hope the pressures piled on by Covid-19 will soon start to subside again, the underlying workforce shortages, declining morale and unsustainable pressures will remain.

In fact, they are driving nursing staff to seriously consider leaving the job they love.

It is now imperative that our political leaders act on the concerns raised by the RCN, our members and others working in health services.

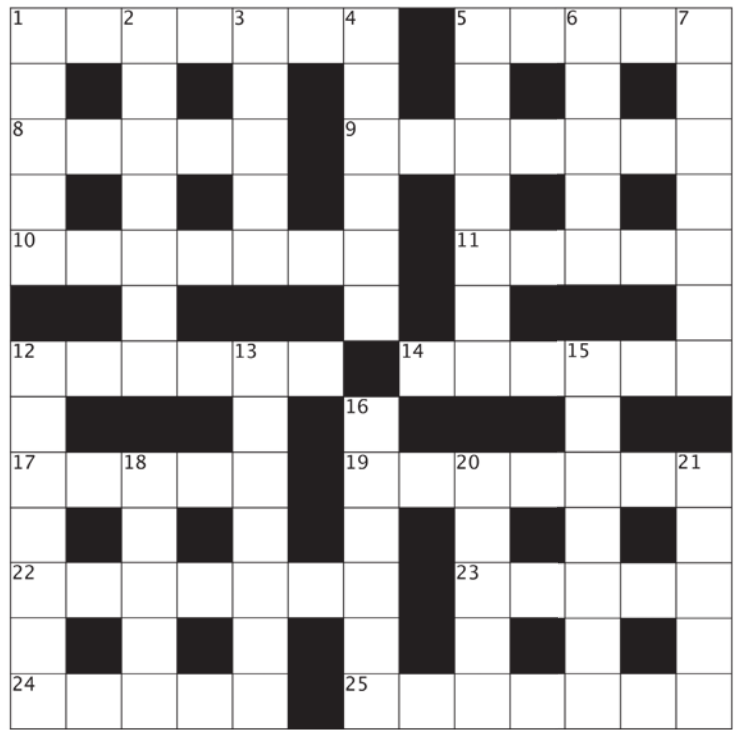

Nursing staff don't go into the profession to deliver care that they know is below the standard they want to provide and that patients and their families rightly expect, but they need the proper resources to deliver a high standard of care.

Please contact your MP and support us as we continue to promote the importance of safe staffing across the whole health and care system.

Carmel O'Boyle,
Regional Board Chair, RCN North West

Linnets' poor home run continues with defeat to Vauxhall

Burscough 0
Vauxhall Motors 2

BURSCOUGH slipped to a third successive defeat at home to in-form Vauxhall, writes Neil Leatherbarrow.

Vauxhall started the match on the front foot and Linnets goalkeeper Jack Reynolds, who was to have a busy afternoon, saved from an early Simon Thelwell header and then a 30 yard free kick.

Four minutes before the interval Reynolds made a magnificent save when Kieran Knapper hit a thunderous shot and he somehow managed to leap to his left to claw the ball onto his crossbar.

Burscough couldn't complain when Vauxhall took the lead a couple of minutes after the interval when Ben Holmes chopped the ball in from the right to Knapper at the far post and he drove his shot across keeper Reynolds.

Burscough reacted well to going behind but again although they had possession they lacked the spark and quick passing to open up an organised Vauxhall defence.

Vauxhall brought on recent signing Craig Cairns on 64 minutes and it only took him four minutes to break his duck for the Motormen.

Burscough lost possession and Vauxhall played the ball into the danger area from the left, Cairns a proven striker over the years, needed no prompting to convert the chance and make it 2-0.

Burscough continued to struggle to create many worthwhile chances and Vauxhall actually looked the more likely scorers in the latter stages.

It was a frustrating day for Burscough. They had plenty of the ball but the Vauxhall defence smothered them and prevented their usual good attacking football.

Next match: Irlam vs Burscough. Saturday, January 22. Kick off 3pm.

Morris brace earns Skem vital three points in promotion chase

Prestwich Heys 2
Skelmersdale United 3

PROMOTION contenders Skelmersdale United picked up three valuable points at Prestwich Heys thanks to a brace from Elliot Morris and a stunning half way line strike by Lloyd Ellams, writes Kevin Panther.

Heys had the best of the early opportunities, home forward Greg Daniels bringing a good save from Skem goalkeeper Ben Barnes before the same player set up a quick free kick to Jack Coop whose chip avoided the keeper and thankfully from a Skem perspective, the far post.

United replied with a Tom Croughan header that was just off target followed by youngster Elliott Morris who was set up by Ken Strickland but his shot was well gathered by Tommy Simpson in the home side goal.

Morris made no mistake on 27 minutes as he gave Skelmersdale a 1-0 lead, a shot from Dan Mitchley was parried by Simpson and fell to the feet of a quick reacting Morris, who coolly slotted home.

Prestwich piled on the pressure looking for the equaliser but the United defence stood firm.

Double goalscorer Elliot Morris. Picture by Bethany Lee

Skelmersdale's left sided forward Mikey Howard was set up by Mitchley just on half time, but his shot was just wide of the upright. It had been an engaging first half with Skem just about deserving their lead.

The lead was not to last long though as just three minutes into the second period, Daniels and Lee Knight combined with the latter placing a fine shot over Barnes and into the top corner for 1-1.

Skelmersdale United regrouped, and Mitchley robbed the ball off a defender and laid it on for Morris who bagged his second goal of the day from close range on the hour.

Paul McNally's men were buoyed by the goal and it was then their turn to dominate.

Substitute Lloyd Ellams put the game to bed with 14 minutes remaining, the goal was struck with an audacious volley from just inside the opposition half that left everyone gasping.

The hosts didn't give up. With five minutes to go Prestwich had an appeal for a penalty turned down as substitute Lee Grimshaw went down but the referee on this occasion waved play-on much to the chagrin of the home side.

Heys did manage to pull a goal back with the last kick of the game, Grimshaw blasting home from close range into the top corner, for Prestwich it gave the score a respectable look.

It had been an enthralling encounter but Skem were slightly the better side on the day and deserved their win but Heys to their utmost credit made them fight all the way.

Next match: Skem vs Congleton Town. Saturday, January 22. Kick off 3pm.

Charity marks 30 years of supporting community

Report by Henry James

A CHURCH and charity that has helped thousands of young people in Skelmersdale is celebrating its 30th anniversary this year.

The Divine Solution Church and the Hope House project were founded by Pastor Tony Adegbenro, who came to the UK from Nigeria to study banking but fell in love with Merseyside and founded the church and charity with his wife, Dola, in 1992.

It's still going strong today, funded by two Hope charity shops which are now so busy he has had to invest in a 20-foot storage unit bought from North Wales-based Container Sales Centre to store donated stock.

Tony and Dola, who live in Fazakerley, in Liverpool, still run the operation which has grown from holding meetings in a single room to making regular visits to schools around the town and organising activities for local children.

The work Tony and Dola do in the community and in schools has expanded online to reach more children in Skelmersdale, many cities of the UK and around the world, including in the USA, Ireland, Germany, Africa, Pakistan and India.

It is funded by the two Skelmersdale charity shops, at Acregate, in Digmoor, and on Gillibrands Road.

The Hope House Project, through its School Angels network, has held regular assemblies and activities since 1988, at primary and secondary schools in the Skelmersdale area, but much of their activity had to close down when the pandemic hit, which meant they had to move many of their services online.

Tony said: "We were reaching about 2,000 kids a week in different schools and over the years we have worked with tens of thousands of children in and around Skelmersdale."

"By going online we are now reaching out to many, many more young people all around the world."

Woodlands Animal Sanctuary appeals for more donations

WOODLANDS Animal Sanctuary in Holmeswood has launched an appeal for more donations.

Volunteers at the centre said a monthly donation will make a "world of difference to the animals who benefit from it."

People can donate by visiting the website:

www.woodlandsanimalsanctuary.org.uk or follow them on social media pages on Facebook and Instagram.

Woodlands Animal Sanctuary is a self-funded registered charity.

This means they have to raise money through one off donations, events or sponsorship.

Rotary club members thank public for festive float support

MEMBERS of Maghull and Aughton Rotary Club want to thank residents who gave to their Christmas Float collection.

In December, the club's Christmas Float, together with Santa and his little helpers, distributed sweets to children to the sounds of festive music, visited most parts of Maghull as well as some of Aintree, and Melling.

Their sister club, Ormskirk Clock Tower Rotary, took the float round some of Aughton and Burscough.

A spokesman for Maghull and Aughton Rotary Club said: "We are very grateful for the generosity of residents whose kind donations are used to distribute to local charities and good causes."

Pangea Sculptures

SCULPTURES

Leap into Pangea this January!

DO you want a fantastic feature talking point in your home – which helps an African artist to sustain their family?

Ian Unsworth, the founder of an Ormskirk firm which imports stunning, one-of-a-kind recycled metal animal sculptures from Africa, believes that “most of us have seen the wonderful spaces created by architects on Grand Designs or Amazing Spaces - but if your finances cannot stretch to your dream home or new build you can still have a really striking feature in your home or garden, with the help of Pangea Sculptures!”

Ian created the firm in 2014 after seeing the artworks on a trip, which he named after the ancient supercontinent of Pangea and they have gone from strength to strength, leading to the opening of their showroom on County Road in July 2016. Their profits are sent back to the talented artists and the firm’s vision for 2022 is to double their workforce!

They have already implemented safety improvements for the team and recently opened a new workshop with more space for the artwork to be created.

Ian said: “Born out of an idea for a community project as well as an admiration for the sculptures, I started Pangea Sculptures eight years ago and the artisan workforce has grown from three to over 500 in that time in order to keep up with the demand for these striking and lifelike animal sculptures.

“Our Head designer has reinvested into the business and created opportunities for other young artists to be trained to create these beautiful animal sculptures to support his village and give families a sustainable income.

“It is wonderful to think that the production of these beautiful creatures is making such a difference to this small community, as well as attracting interest from art lovers worldwide who are looking for a unique piece with a real story to tell.”

Allwood Furniture

There's almost nothing about wooden furniture that we don't know!

The owner of a home furniture specialist that has been running for almost three decades says that the business has seen a huge shift to online ordering.

Tom Snell, who joined the firm in 1995 and became a company director and main operations manager when it eventually became a limited company trading as Allwood Furniture, says that nowadays, so many customers have shifted to buying online that they have completely adapted how they operate in order to revolutionise the business.

One of their biggest strengths, he believes, is that customers can see the range on the website, www.allwoodfurniture.co.uk and if they wish, they can also see the 'real life' items in their showroom in Greenhey Place in Skelmersdale.

Tom Snell revealed to the Champion: "We like to check our stock here and check for damage before sending the products out to our customers. We also have a paid service where we can assemble the items within the areas that the Champion covers, which is an edge we have over our competitors as this is a very easy way for customers to see perfect results and takes some of the stress out of the process for them. We continually scan the internet to make sure that all our products are highly competitive and are as low-priced as possible.

"It's a tricky industry and there's almost nothing about wooden furniture that we don't know! We moved from our large showroom in Manchester a few years ago and now have a showroom in Skelmersdale which operates on an appointment basis. We have some pieces on show in the showroom, however the full range is available to view on our website.

"We currently have a 50% off Winter Sale on so there has never been a better time to have a look at the fantastic deals that we are offering. We have really great-quality, solid wooden furniture in oak, pine, ash and other solid hardwoods as well as many modern styles in a variety of fashionable colours including the ever-popular white, black and gloss finishes. To top it, some of these new ranges are extremely well-priced! Our ranges cover all rooms in the house from lounge and dining rooms to bedroom and home office.

"Some of our furniture ranges are available from stock so we can provide a quick delivery service, or enable you to collect from us straight away.

"We are able to provide a friendly and personal service to Skelmersdale and the surrounding areas, Ormskirk, Halsall, Scarisbrick, Lathom, Burscough, Rufford, Parbold, Newburgh, Bickerstaffe, Aughton, Lydiate, Aintree, Maghull, Crosby, Formby, Southport, Kirkby, Knowsley, Rainford, Eccleston and St Helens. We can also deliver to most other areas in the UK using couriers, specialist logistics services or our own transport.

"We focus on traditional and modern products and we regularly source new ranges to keep our website fresh and exciting.

"Sometimes people just want the personal touch. We find that many of our customers come to us after they have already done a great deal of research online and that they appreciate being able to see and touch the products in real life and also want to seek advice from our knowledgeable team.

"Sometimes people want the reassurance that they are dealing with a team of professionals."

Champion MOTORS

Just as the Mondeo's getting its groove back, it's taken away!

SAY hello to the new Ford Mondeo. Or to be more accurate, say Ni Hao.

Apologies if I've offended any Mandarin-speaking Champion readers with that hastily googled translation, but you do at least get the new Mondeo as ample compensation. You see, the fifth generation of Ford's motorway mile-muncher has just been launched in China – and that's pretty much where it's staying. There are no plans to bring it here, or to any markets in continental Europe, or Uncle Henry's homeland in the US, for that matter.

■ The new Ford Mondeo will not be sold here in the UK

It's also been designed not for Mondeo Man – the hard-pressed family guy stereotype very publicly courted by Tony Blair in the run-up to the 1997 General Election – but specifically for drivers in the People's Republic. It's been designed there too, at Ford's China Design Centre in Shanghai, and it's going to be built there too, by Chang'an Ford, a 50/50 joint venture between the Blue Oval and China's very own Chang'an Automobile, based in Chongqing.

However, it's widely rumoured that some of the new Mondeo's oily bits could come to the UK under the skin of the new Evos, which is – you guessed it – a five-door crossover. Nothing's been confirmed officially yet, but word on the street is that it's going to be kitted out with either a 1.5-litre or two-litre petrol unit, both using hybrid tech to keep the emissions down.

CITROEN'S new range-topper has just gone on sale across the UK. The C5 X is a five-door crossover that'll be available in either petrol or plug-in hybrid form, with prices kicking off at £26,490 for the Sense Plus-spec petrol model. It's longer and roomier than the outgoing C5 and depending on whether you go for the hybrid model or not, it'll offer 545 or 485 litre of bootspace for you luggage too. It's available to order now, with the first examples being delivered later in the spring

with

www.lifeoncars.co.uk

This new Mondeo has definitely been fine-tuned with the world's biggest new car market in mind. One of the biggest priorities for the Chinese market is lots of rear legroom, so it's hardly surprising that while the Mondeo's a little longer and a little wider than the one it replaces, most of the hard work has been done on stretching the wheelbase by 104mm, so that even Peter Crouch can get comfy in its back seats. The other big ask is lots of tech, and it's got that too, with a full-width digital dashboard and software from Chinese tech giant Baidu.

But the thing that makes this one a Chinese take-away that I'd definitely want to order in is that it looks terrific. I know car design is a very subjective thing, but I suspect what's considered a looker on the streets of Shanghai is probably going to cut it in Southport or Seaforth too. The old Mondeo, which bows out in March, isn't exactly unattractive but the coupé roofline, Mustang-esque kicked up rear and door handles that could have been nicked straight off a Jaguar iPace all make this Mondeo, in my book at least, the most enticing one so far. Yet it's the only one, because you've all been buying BMWs and Qashqais instead, that we're not allowed to have.

Shame. Just when it looks like the Mondeo's getting its groove back, it's been taken away from us, but there's still time to change your mind, Uncle Henry. I'll have mine in ST220 spec, please.

■ The C5 X is the new range-topper for Citroen

FIAT has treated its 500X and Tipo to some subtle updates. The 500X has been given new logos and lettering to bring it into the line with its smaller electric-only sibling, and is now available with three trim levels, with prices starting at £22,085. The Tipo meanwhile, has been kitted out with more luxuries, including adaptive cruise control, electric door mirrors and 16-inch alloy wheels with prices starting at £19,595.

■ The Fiat 500X has been given a few subtle tweaks

FREE MOT TEST FOR LIFE

There is no other car dealer in the UK that will allow you to swap your existing car for another one and give you a FREE MOT TEST for life!

Well, Chapelhouse are doing exactly that with every NEW or USED CAR purchased throughout their CAR SWAP EVENT.

Chapelhouse will carry out a FREE MOT test each year for the life of the car and even if you sell the vehicle we can transfer this over to the new owner. BARGAIN!

This great opportunity can save you up to £1000 over the life time of the vehicle you purchased from us.

"I swapped my old C1 for a new Suzuki Swift with loads of extras and it only cost me £500 and with FREE MOT for life." Paula Taylor

Get down to Chapelhouse and take advantage of not only a newer vehicle but a vehicle with FREE MOT tests for life, it's that simple!!

"We swapped our Vauxhall Corsa for a much newer Kia Rio and it's hard to believe it only cost us £645." The Parsonage Family

HOW IT WORKS...

1. We shall close early on the 20th January in order to prepare for The Chapelhouse Car Swap ten day event.
2. We will fully prepare over 1000 new, nearly new and used vehicles and line them up for you to browse around.
3. The price of every car will be reduced and PRICED TO SELL!
4. The Car Swap price will be whitewashed on to every car windscreen.
5. You will be able to see the saving from the original price which will still be on the car.
6. When you arrive and after making your choice of tea, coffee or hot chocolate your car will be valued.
7. You will be given a written valuation on a signed form stating how much we will give you for your car.
8. Pick the car you most desire and either do a straight swap depending on the valuation of your car or pay the difference.
9. Once you have decided on a swap, simply take your valuation form to any one of the Chapelhouse Car Sales Executives who will complete the necessary documentation. You will also be able to take advantage of special finance packages during the event, including interest free credit.

Don't miss this special event at Chapelhouse

Trading in your tired old wheels for a more exciting model becomes easier and cheaper than ever.

Here at Chapelhouse, we love giving our customers great deals, so if you are looking to change your car, we are offering a simple, catch free way to do so, without leaving you out of pocket.

Our Car Swap event runs right across the Chapelhouse group, meaning you have a range of over 1000 new, nearly new and quality used vehicles to choose from.

Many of our cars also come with a host of added extras as standard, including our fantastic 'FREE MOT TEST FOR LIFE' offer.

The process is simple, just take your car down to Chapelhouse, and enjoy a hot drink on us, while one of our friendly salesmen works out price we can give you for your car.

Once we've worked this out, you can take a look around the site and pick the car you'd like to take home with you.

Each car will be reduced and priced to sell, so simply deduct the price of your car from the price of your new car, and that's all you have to pay. That means there is every chance you will walk away with a new higher spec car for nothing!

No other dealer can boast an offer this good, so make sure you take a trip down to Chapelhouse during this January Car Swap event and get yourself a new car from as little as £0!
